

Dear FCC,

I understand that you are considering a national policy on telephone solicitation. I would encourage you to let each state determine their own policy related to this matter. Indiana has a great policy. Since I have signed up on NO Call list I am able to come home and relax at lunch time and not have to answer 6 or 7 different sales calls. I have caller ID, but that still does not keep the phone from ringing and then taking the time to see who it is. It has been amazing at how quiet our house has become since we signed up. The NO Call list is one of best things I have signed up for. Please keep Indiana's law intact, it has been a wonderful blessing. Thank you for considering these comments.
